

Kilninver School Roll of Honour

Martin Petrie, Kilninver

Lying in a corner (out of sight) in the vestry of Kilninver Church there is a slowly fading framed Roll of honour from World War One. One former pupil can recall it hanging in Kilninver School but admitted to not paying much attention to its content at the time. Some of these families still reside in the district and although I believe it is not a roll of war dead, it still deserves an airing ninety years on.

A recent brief visit to Kilmelford War Memorial only gives up one name from this list, Robert McKelvie Campbell, Kilninver Schoolhouse; presumably the headmaster's son. The range of regiments seems quite diverse for a small Argyll parish.

Address for correspondence: Martin Petrie, Lodge Cottage, Kilninver PA34 4UT.
